"THO/E WHO MYTRUCT OTHER/ IM VIRTUE JHALL JHIME AJ JTARJ FOREVER." Daniel 12:3

Dear Class of 2000:

o seem

In your last year of college, you have heard a great many predictions about life in the wenty-first century and, in fact, you have seen a great many portends of the future: echnological innovation; cloning, the success of the Human Genome Project; the exploration of leep space; a global economy in operation. For your generation and for those to come, change will be a constant. St. Joseph's College has tried to prepare you for this world of change and, at he same time, to inculcate values that will provide an interior place for you to stand as you move about the larger world. These values are articulated in the mission of the college, "to prepare each student to lead a life characterized by integrity, intellectual and spiritual values, social esponsibility and service—a life worthy of the College's motto, Esse non vider: "To be and not

Each year all academic ceremonies at the college take as their theme as one of the values proclaimed in the mission statement. This year, 1999-2000, we have focused upon integrity, that quality in a person that bespeaks wholeness and unity. Those among you who came to st. Joseph's as Freshmen in September, 1996, will remember Dr. Paul Ginnety's eloquent lecture on the subject of integrity which closed with the words of Sister Ita Ford, a martyred Maryknoll nissionary. Sister Ita, addressing a beloved niece wrote, "I hope you come to find that which gives life a deep meaning for you. Something worth living for—maybe even worth dying for, comething that energizes you, enthuses you, enables you to keep moving ahead. I can't tell you what it might be—that's for you to find, to choose to love. I can just encourage you to start tooking and support you in the search." Sister Ita's words embody the meaning of integrity, and her hope for her niece echoes the hopes we have for you, Class of 2000.

Congratulations and blessings.

Sincerely,

Sister Loretta McGrann, Ph.D. Academic Dean College of Arts and Sciences Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2010 with funding from St. Joseph's College, New York

To the Class of 2000: Putting this book together took a lot of hard work and dedication; the same kind of hard work and dedication that it took all of you to achieve your goals. We are sure that there were times it seemed as if this day would never arrive, but now it is finally here. As you open this book you close another chapter of your lives, but this book will help you to forever remember the wonderful years that you spent at St. Josephis College. To the Class of 2000; We say to you, Good Luck in the future and in all that you do. May your memories last forever . . .
